Soviet Fires Largest Nuclear Explosion

Equivalent To Millions Of Tons TNT

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians have set off another great nuclear explosion—"The largest yet in the U.S.S.R."—and carrying a punch equal to millions of tons of TNT.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced this Wednesday night, without saying it was a hydrogen bomb explosion, which it appeared to be on the basis of the force credited to it. The first known Russian H-bomb blast occurred in 1953.

"The Russian tests indicate an increasingly intensive effort by the Soviet government to develop their nuclear weapons potential," the AEC said.

The greatest nuclear explosion in the United States has set off—in 1954 at Bikini atoll—was estimated unofficially as having the force of 15 to 17 million tons of TNT. Since the AEC spoke only of unspecified millions of tons in its new announcement of Russia's achievement, a comparison was not possible.

However, some idea of the growth of the deadly weapon which came into being little over 10 years ago may be gained from the fact that the original U. S. atomic bomb was officially said to have had the strength of 20,000 tons of TNT.

The Russians claimed, and the AEC confirmed it, that they exploded an H-bomb in August 1953.

The text of Wednesday night's AEC announcement:

"Following the policy of reporting to the American people information of significance concerning Soviet weapons tests, Mr. Strauss said that this explosion was the largest thus far in the U.S.S.R. and was in the range of megatons (a megaton represents the explosive equivalent of one million tons of TNT)."

"The Russian tests indicate an increasingly intensive effort by the Soviet government to develop their nuclear weapons potential."

Ordinary fission type atomic blasts normally are measured in kilotons, that is, thousands of tons of TNT, while fusion blasts have been measured in megatons.

The most recent previous AEC announcement of a Russian nuclear explosion came Nov. 10, part of the 1955 series being conducted by the Soviets.

The first U.S. announcement of a Russian atomic explosion came Sept. 23, 1949 and others have followed from time to time.

Orders Guardsmen For Patrol Duty At Circle Corp.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Craig ordered 85 National Guardsmen to report for patrol duty Wednesday night at the Perfect Circle Corp. foundry in New Castle because of a new rash of strike disorders.

The troops from Connerville, 30 miles southeast of New Castle, were sent in only six days after the last of the previous patrols were sent home.

Gov. Craig had said only Tuesday that a wave of window smashing and shootings in and around New Castle were "regrettable" but didn't justify sending troops back.

But, after 10 windows were smashed in the foundry early Wednesday morning, Craig telephoned Mayor Paul V. McCormack of New Castle, offering to resume troop patrols. The governor immediately called out the Connerville company after McCormack wired Craig he would accept the offer.

The governor issued the following statement late Wednesday afternoon:

"Continuing unrest in New Castle cannot be tolerated. Every American citizen is entitled to live and work in peace. The people of New Castle share this privilege. Law enforcement is a local responsibility.

"Eventually, local officials will have to take care of this situation. In the meantime, however, I will insist that law and order be maintained.

"The disturbances of the past few days make it abundantly clear that the no-violence pledge of the national CIO president is of no value in this controversy."

Pressure Mounts For Reinstatement Of State Police Capt. Engstrom

LASALLE, Ill. (AP)—Pressure is mounting in Bureau County for the reinstatement of a suspended state police captain.

The seven Congressional members of the county Wednesday announced they will speak from their pulpits Sunday on the subject: "The issues involved in the firing of Capt. Henry Engstrom."

Engstrom was suspended Nov. 4 as commander of District 1 and 7. The districts include the counties of Carroll, DeKalb, Jo, Davis, Lee, Ogle, Stephenson, Whiteside, Winnebago, Bureau, Henry, Knox, Mercer and Rock Island.

Supreme Court Of Illinois Rules On Immunity Law

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court ruled Wednesday that a 1953 immunity law cannot be invoked if a witness who has been ordered to testify would run the risk of federal prosecution.

The law in question empowers judges to grant witnesses immunity from prosecution in exchange for their testimony.

The high court overturned the contempt conviction and six-month sentence of Alfred Burkert of Waukegan, who refused to follow a court order requiring him to testify in 1954 before a Lake County grand jury investigating gambling.

Burkert, who had been arrested for operating a handbook, declined to answer questions about his occupation and whether he knew of any gambling or vice in the county. He contended his testimony might disclose violations of federal laws.

Ducks Trapped By Oil Patch On Lake Michigan

CHICAGO (AP)—A thick patch of oil floating off Chicago on Lake Michigan trapped a flock of ducks Wednesday. North Side residents rescued several dozen of the birds.

The sticky oil—half a mile wide, 10 miles long and two inches thick—floated up the Chicago shoreline Tuesday. It is unusual for such a large amount of oil to gather in the Chicago area of the lake, although the Indiana shoreline usually is dirtied by waste from refineries.

The U. S. Army Engineers discounted warnings by city officials that the oil slick is a fire hazard. The city's port director also had warned it might kill all the fish in the lake.

Paul Fountain of the Army Engineers said westerly winds pushed the main body of oil away from shore Wednesday, leaving behind a sticky mess at Belmont Harbor on the North Side. He said winds probably would dissipate the mess.

Six oil-bogged ducks floated ashore near the home of D. M. Streckenbach at the northern edge of the city. Policemen, housewives and humane officers rescued others. An Animal Welfare League crew which came to get the ducks, wash them and set them free to continue their winter journey south attempted to rescue several hundred more ducks bogged down in the oil offshore.

Report Eden Desires To Visit U.S. To Confer With President

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Eden would like to visit Washington soon to review thoroughly with President Eisenhower all Allied policies in Europe, the Middle East and Asia, an aide said Wednesday.

Eden told a group of visiting U. S. congressmen he would be delighted to make the trip if an early opportunity arises, the aide said.

But he stressed that no official step has been taken by either the British or U.S. governments to arrange a transatlantic trip by the prime minister.

The seven American congressmen, led by Sen. Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) had urged Eden to come to Washington for a talk with the President.

It is assumed by government officials here that the congressmen will inform the administration in Washington of Eden's reaction to their suggestion.

Any arrangement for a meeting between the President and the Prime Minister undoubtedly will depend on the state of Eisenhower's health, Eden's aide said. The British leader was said to be well aware that the President probably is not in a position at this moment

State Police Chief Phil M. Brown Monday filed detailed charges against Engstrom. They included conduct unbecoming an officer, insubordination and disrespect of a superior officer.

When informed of his suspension, Engstrom said at his Sterling home that he did not know what was behind the charges. He said he would defend himself at merit board hearings.

A petition is being circulated throughout the county urging letters be written Brown demanding Engstrom's reinstatement.

The petition is signed by 15 county residents, including Roger Pierson, a Princeton attorney; Ted Dusfield, editor and publisher of the Bureau County Republican, a weekly newspaper; Grant Thomas, Congressional minister in Springfield, and Dan Russell, once a candidate for mayor of Princeton.

The petition gives a resume of Engstrom's suspension and the charges against him, and states these four points:

1. The raids conducted by Engstrom against gambling have embarrassed various local and county law enforcement personnel.
2. State's Atty. Calhoun Phelps of Bureau County has "appeared unwilling to prosecute" on the basis of evidence of gambling unearthed by Engstrom, and there is "much evidence many of the cases never reached court."
3. Engstrom protested against lack of cooperation from local and county law enforcement agencies and Phelps, thus causing active resentment of his anti-gambling activities.
4. There is in existence a tape recording obtained by Engstrom which indicates "active cooperation between gambling interests and local and state officials."

KING FOR A DAY—All hail King Tom, monarch magnificent! ... trussed, stuffed and roasted ... may his reign be beneficent ... flavor, savory, traditional dish ... he gets all the gravy ... what more could kings wish?

President Proclaims Thanksgiving Day

Text of President Eisenhower's Thanksgiving Day proclamation, issued at Denver on Oct. 11, 1955. The custom of devoting one day each year to national Thanksgiving is a wise and an ancient one, hallowed by observance in the days before we became a nation, a sanctified throughout the succeeding generations. It is therefore in keeping with our oldest traditions that at the fruitful season of the waning year we turn again to Almighty God in grateful acknowledgement of his manifold blessings.

At this time of Thanksgiving, may we express our deep appreciation of those forebears who, more than three centuries ago, celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day. Through their industry and courage, our nation was hewn from the virgin forest, and through their steadfastness and faith, the ideals of liberty and justice have become our cherished inheritance.

May we lift up our hearts in special prayers of gratitude for the abundance of our endowments, both material and spiritual, for the preservation of our way of life in its richness and fullness, and for the religious faith which has wielded such a beneficent influence upon our destiny. May we show our thanks for our own bounty by remembrance of those less fortunate, and may the spirit of this Thanksgiving season move us to share with them to alleviate their need.

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, having in mind the joint Congressional resolution of December 26, 1941, which designated the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day and made that day a legal holiday, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the twenty-fourth day of November, 1955, as a day of national Thanksgiving; and I urge all our citizens to observe the day with reverence. Let us, on the appointed day, in our homes and our accustomed places of worship, each according to his own faith, bow before God and give Him humble thanks.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

Done at the city of Washington this eleventh day of October in the year of Our Lord Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-five, and of the Independence of the United States of America the One Hundred and Eightieth.

Federal Board Reverses Order From Mine Bureau

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Coal Mine Safety Board, in a ruling classed by industry sources as a major policy decision, reversed Wednesday a Bureau of Mines order closing the Crucible (Pa.) Steel Co.'s mine.

The mine, 60 miles south of Pittsburgh, had never been closed because the bureau order had been stayed pending action by the board.

Bureau examiners ordered the mine closed because abandoned entries left open as air vents—at inactive locations some distance from working areas—had not been dusted with rock dust. Such dusting is required in the vicinity of working areas because the rock dust, when mixed with loose coal dust, lessens danger of explosion.

The Review Board, cancelling the closure order, said the bureau had failed to prove such dusting was required in abandoned entries.

The issue had interested the entire coal industry because, a spokesman said, if the bureau had been affirmed "the industry would have had to spend millions of dollars needlessly dusting hundreds and hundreds of miles of such areas underground."

The Review Board decision was unanimous, 3-0.

Brazil Moves To Bolster Ramos Regime

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Congress rushed action Wednesday on a bill imposing a state of siege throughout Brazil to bolster the regime of provisional President Nereu Ramos.

Final passage of the measure authorizing modified martial law and suspending many rights guaranteed by the constitution was expected by Thursday.

The deputies voted 162 to 69 that the final vote should be a standing one instead of by rollcall. This was considered a test of the bill's chances and apparently confirmed that a majority supports it.

The avowed purpose of the bill's sponsors is to prevent Joao Cafe Filho's re-installation in the presidency which might be ordered by a Supreme Court interpretation of the constitution.

Congress Tuesday rejected Cafe's bid to resume the functions of the presidency and ruled he is still disabled by the heart attack which caused him to take sick leave Nov. 8.

His attorneys then asked the Supreme Court for a special writ authorizing his return to office and a writ of habeas corpus to free him from virtual house arrest imposed by the army Tuesday when his home was surrounded by troops and tanks.

Under a state of siege, the administration can suspend the Supreme Court's right to rule that Cafe is entitled to the presidency.

W. Germany Names Career Generals To Head New Army

BONN, Germany (AP)—West Germany revamped its defense ministry Wednesday and named two career generals to top jobs in building up the nation's new 500,000-man armed forces. The generals fought in the German armies of World War II and eventually opposed Hitler's faltering leadership.

Lt. Gen. Adolf Heusinger, 58, who was arrested in the 1944 bomb plot against Hitler, was appointed chairman of a new supreme military council and will be the chief military planner.

Under him will be Lt. Gen. Hans Speidel, also 58 and who also was arrested as a suspect in the bomb plot, as chief of a newly created armed forces department.

In the ministry's reorganization new departments were set up for the army, navy and air force. With the armed forces department, these departments will make up the supreme military council over which Heusinger will preside.

By 1959 the Bonn government plans to have 500,000 men under arms in a 12-division army, a 1,300-plane tactical air force and a coastal defense navy. These forces are to be integrated into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Wednesday's appointments reflected the new urgency behind the drive to speed the buildup of the armed forces following the failure of the Big Four foreign ministers to agree on German unity at Geneva.

Benson Asks Public For Ideas On Solving Problems Of Farmers

CLEVELAND (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson, confident of a "bright future" for farmers, said Wednesday he believes nobody should make a political football out of the farm problem.

"The worst part of our adjustment is behind us," Benson said. He made two speeches here in quick succession—one to the National Grange convention and the other to the Chamber of Commerce's Farmers' Club.

The grangemen applauded Benson when he declared he would "never knowingly advocate or support any policy or program which I believe is not in the best interests of our farmers and fair to all of our people—regardless of political pressure."

The secretary said farm legislation should be bipartisan, and no farm program should ever be manipulated to serve partisan political purposes.

"I wouldn't remain in this hot spot for 24 hours," Benson told the businessmen. "If I didn't believe that farmers want to produce for a free market, not for government warehouses, I can't imagine any man in his right mind wanting to be secretary of agriculture. But I consider it a privilege to serve my country."

In his speech to the Grange, Benson appealed to the public for ideas on how to help solve farm problems of overproduction, surpluses and declining grower prices and income which are likely to become major issues in next year's presidential campaign.

The secretary promised that every suggestion will be considered except the suggestion that the government return to high, rigid price supports. Restoration of the old support program has been urged by some Democratic critics of the Eisenhower administration farm program.

Benson said he regards the Agricultural Act of 1954 as a good start, but believes more legislation will be needed.

"The answer is not to go back, but forward," he said. "The argument over rigid versus flexible price supports was overplayed. All the decline in farm prices we've had up to this fall's harvest took place under rigid supports."

"The rigid versus flexible support problem is important because of the principle involved, but it is only a small part of the total problem."

Between speeches, Benson told a reporter he had advised President Eisenhower he would be "greatly relieved" to leave his post after two years' service. He said the President replied, "Ezra, if you quit, I do too."

Asked about a published report that Dr. Milton S. Eisenhower, the (Continued On Page 13)

KEFAUVER 'INCLINED' TO MAKE RACE IN '56

STONEWALL, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee said Wednesday he is "inclined to make the race" for Democratic presidential nominee in 1956 but is not yet ready to announce his decision.

Visiting at the ranch of Senate majority leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Kefauver said he has business before he can say finally whether or not he will seek the nomination.

He told reporters that an announcement should be forthcoming by late December or early January.

O'Mahoney Urges Antitrust Law Change To Restrain GM

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said Wednesday that unless the government acts, General Motors will attain complete domination of the automobile industry. He urged strengthening of the antitrust laws.

Presiding over a study of General Motors Corp. by the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, O'Mahoney said the evidence to date indicates that "control in a very high degree now exists in those who manage General Motors."

"If we don't have regulation by government we will have control by General Motors," he asserted. O'Mahoney said auto dealers are being required by GM zone and district managers to buy more cars than they can sell on a sound financial basis.

He said manufacturers of automobile parts, who have been in business 30 to 40 years, are finding themselves "squeezed out of the market."

The subcommittee is being "flooded" with complaints from the dealers, O'Mahoney reported, and many say they are "on the brink of disaster."

The senator added that these dealers are forced to grant long gestated retail prices are equalized.

Family Together For Holiday

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower set up Wednesday his first full-fledged political conference since his Sept. 24 heart attack—a meeting Monday with Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall.

Whether the two top men in the GOP will get into the intriguing topic of a second term for Eisenhower is an open question.

The presidential press secretary, James C. Hagerty said only that, "I wouldn't think so." But that by no means slammed the door on an exploration of the President's 1956 intentions.

In any event, Eisenhower is on his way back to a decisive role in Republican party affairs and soon will be doing business again at the White House in Washington.

On this Thanksgiving Eve, the President had reason to be doubly grateful:

Members of the family—Mrs. Eisenhower, son John, daughter-in-law Barbara, and the three lively grandchildren—David, Barbara Anne and Susan—were gathered for a turkey-trimming holiday at the big white brick home of the chief executive's country estate.

Eisenhower's health seems to be improving steadily, with no setbacks. His doctors so reported Thursday morning.

Accordingly, the President set up a schedule running through mid-November, which goes like this:

Nov. 28—The conference here with Hall. Hagerty said he assumed there would be a discussion of "matters dealing with the Republican party." By that, he added "I mean politics."

Dec. 3—Visits here with Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California and House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts. Hagerty said these will deal with legislative program and the State of the Union message the President presents to Congress early in January.

Dec. 8-9—A repeat of this week's meetings with the National Security Council and Cabinet at the President's mountain lodge near Thurmont, Md.

Dec. 10—A return to Washington for X-rays and fluoroscopes at Walter Reed Hospital to determine whether increased activity has resulted in any enlargement of Eisenhower's heart.

Dec. 12—The annual conference at the White House with Republican leaders from Congress on the State of the Union message and legislation.

Dec. 13—The usual follow-up with congressional chiefs of both parties on foreign affairs and military aspects of the message and program, then a trip back to Gettysburg.

Dec. 17—Another complete examination by the renowned Boston heart specialist, Dr. Paul Dudley White, probably here in Gettysburg.

From there on, the program has (Continued On Page 13)

GIVE SPECIAL THANKS

Americans will surely offer thanks this year that they and the rest of the peoples of the earth seem on a firmer footing of peace than in many a long day. They can be grateful, too, that they are on the highest plane of well-being in the nation's history.

But beyond these things, the American people may be minded to voice a special Thanksgiving prayer that their President, Dwight D. Eisenhower, has so far come safely through his illness.

To millions of citizens in this land and abroad, he is the image of decency, of calm devotion to fundamentals of human cooperation, of dedication to the cause of peace.

These millions somehow feel their safety bound up with this man. They are fond of him as they are fond of a friend and protector, for that is how they see him. When he was struck down it was like sickness in the family.

When so many hold a man in such deep affection, you hear it said now and then that this is unfortunate for the country. Some say that Mr. Eisenhower is a "father image," and that is it not right for people to feel so dependent on a single public figure.

A little of this talk is politically inspired by men who are grouching because this particular "father" doesn't happen to lead their own party. But a good deal of it is sincere.

Perhaps it would be very good if more Americans showed today a greater spirit of self-reliance than is evident. But in the circumstances of this age, that does not appear to be in prospect.

The complexities and bewilderments of this time drive men to look for guidance and help. They cannot thread their way through the daily dilemmas that confront them on every hand. It is understandable that they should thus turn to someone they believe is competent to meet their problems and master them.

In other lands and other times, men similarly beset have unwisely chosen tyrants to solve their difficulties.

We can all be thankful that Americans searching for guidance have put their trust not in a dictator, nor even in a power-conscious democratic leader, but in a man whose decent, humane instincts make him the very opposite of the autocrat.

If men like President Eisenhower represent the sort of image Americans admire and put their confidence in, then there is no cause for alarm.

We need feel no sadness, either, that men see in him a personal helper. We should be quite content that they look to him, and that they perhaps choose now to pray thanks for his progress toward full recovery.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — At 22, darkly handsome Edward G. Robinson Jr. has had more than his share of trouble. But now he thinks he has his life on an even keel.

"It was all part of growing up," he says. "I was confused. I was despondent over my marriage."

"I turned to drink as a panacea for all my problems. But that was no solution. When I woke up in the morning, I had a headache, and my problems were still there."

Drinking added to his problems. He was arrested on drunk charges. He also was charged with passing bad checks and holding up a taxi driver.

"I was acquitted on those matters," he said. "My big problem was drinking. I was miserable over my marriage."

"We tried to make it work. We went back together many times. I didn't want my daughter to be raised in a broken home. But it was worse for her to be living with parents who were always fighting. I'm afraid we would have destroyed each other if we had stayed married."

Young Robinson said he has recovered from the hurt of the broken marriage and has conquered his drinking problem.

"I couldn't handle it," he admitted. "Now I just have a little wine before dinner or a beer now and then if I feel like it."

The greatest boost for his morale has been the improvement in his acting career. He owes it to Minna Wallis, an agent who managed Van Johnson's career, among others. She's the sister of producer Hal Wallis.

Eddie had gone to school with the producer's son, Mrs. Wallis formerly comedienne Louise Fazenda, interested her sister-in-law in Eddie's problems. Minna took him under her wing, quickly got him roles in two Clixam TV shows and in a war film, "The Screaming Eagles."

Bearing a famous name is both an asset and a liability, Eddie said. "It helps get you in to see producers, he explained, "but then you have to live up to somebody else's reputation."

"I thought about changing my name, but I gave that up. It's a perfectly good name, and I wouldn't be fooling anyone if I did change it."

If folks were as quick at getting started at their work as they are getting tired of it, more things would get done.

Nursing Our Child Knits Us Closer Together With Him

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

"My husband and I both work. Five months ago when I became pregnant, his mother who lives near us offered to give daily care to the baby after it came so I could return to my job. Until recently, I accepted this plan without thinking about it. Now I realize that it gives me no chance to nurse my baby at all. I've begun to wonder if we shouldn't try to get by on what my husband makes so that I can breast-feed my baby."

What a brave thought to have had. How urgent must be Mrs. A's wish to mother her baby herself to push up like this out of the weight of other people's wishes.

I hope she respects it. Even when we can't nurse our babies, it's fine to know we want to. We'd all know it without the slightest trouble if people with queer ideas of "progress" hadn't confused us.

Indeed, there may be some connection found one day between our popular revulsion from breast-feeding and the trouble we have in putting physical controls on young children.

It appears like a most reasonable connection to me. For breast-feeding fosters in us a wonderful, deeply centered sureness of our value to our baby. It is a discipline forcing us to slacken both mental and physical activity, requiring us to "let go" emotional tensions just as tension is released from the breast.

So our nursing time makes a space for a knitting together of our baby and us, building an easy, relaxed intimacy between our body and his that I am sure is an important step in our later control of his body. Certainly, our grandmothers who breast-fed their babies as a matter of course, had much less trouble with discipline than we have.

They needed no child training books to tell them how to treat their children's tantrums. Out of their old nursing intimacy with a small son, they could give his tantrum "kind firmness" spontaneously, unhampered by our sickly modern fear of his rejecting it.

Having shared breast-feeding's physical give-and-take with him, later bodily contact with their children came easy—and our grandmothers could minister as confidently to the rage in their little child's three-year-old body as they had once ministered to hunger in his three-month-old one.

By bringing her wish to nurse her unborn baby into clear awareness, Mrs. A. is already beginning to mother him.

In a world where so many things from the bread we eat to the music we hear are abstracted from their origins by complex machine processes, it's lovely when a mother and baby can be together without glass and rubber nipples between them.

WASHINGTON — The United States, which has helped India economically to the tune of almost 500 million dollars in the past six years, apparently was set to coast a bit when—the Russians stepped in.

Now this country may have to open its pocketbook a little wider. Russia's Premier Bulganin and Communist party chief Khrushchev, now visiting India, have offered to "share" Russian experience in atomic energy, industry and electric power.

India, with a population of more than 350 million, is the largest non-Communist country in Asia. Like Communist Yugoslavia in Europe, India claims to be "neutral" in the power struggle between the West and Russia.

Both sides in that cold war want the friendship of the Indians and the Yugoslavs. Both countries are in a position — because their friendship is so valuable — to watch the two sides bid against each other with help, actual or promised.

The United States and some of its Western allies have been giving India economic help. The United States has been doing it for years. For the present fiscal year, the one Deshmukh talked about, the Eisenhower administration asked Congress for 70 million dollars for India.

Congress approved only 50 million thinking of spending only 40 million and keeping the other 10 in reserve. But the Russian visit and their offers of help may induce the administration to boost, not decrease, its help.

Between 1949 and last June 30 — a six-year period — this country has helped India with 479 million dollars in grants and loans. Of that total about 275 millions was in technical assistance and other economic aid.

The Indians also got a 190-million dollar loan to buy American wheat.

The only important economic agreement between Russia and India so far was made last February when the Soviets arranged to give the Indians a loan of 190 million dollars to build a one-million-ton steel mill.

Recently Communist Czechoslovakia offered to build another one-million-ton steel mill at a cost of 210 million dollars. The British had been studying a proposal to build such a plant when the Czechs made their bid.

In a weekend speech, before cheering crowds, Bulganin told the Indians:

"We are prepared to share our experience in the construction of industrial enterprises, electro-power stations, hydro-projects, and the utilization of a t o m i c energy for peaceful purposes."

Many important Indians, reportedly, do not think the Russians can give much economic assistance since they have quite a problem putting their own economy on a solid basis. That thinking may be wrong. The Russian dictatorship, where and when it thinks necessary for its long-range purposes, can skip at home to send abroad.

A magnificent big standing rib of beef roast, packed branded for quality, is their choice. They'll omit the traditional heavy holiday accompaniments in favor of an elegant, modern menu.

Starting the meal will be hot tomato juice served in the living room in front of the fireplace with light nibbling food such as crisp crackers and an assortment of colorful relishes. This simple first course will not dim the pleasure of adult appetites and is one young John, 21, can share, though not his 2 months brother Mark.

With the roast, will be butter-fluffed baked potatoes, frozen broccoli or asparagus with slivered almonds in brown butter, buttery rolls and the family's favorite tossed green salad with oil and vinegar dressing. Dessert is a handsome combination of assorted cheeses.

Note: If a roast meat thermometer is used, 140 degrees F. internal temperature indicates rare for roasts from 4 pounds to 16 pounds.

HOLIDAY DINNER: Blended tomato and grapefruit juice, standing rib of beef roast, brown gravy, butter-fluffed baked potatoes, baked acorn squash, green beans with slivered almonds in butter, hot rolls, butter or margarine, mixed green salad, vanilla ice cream with cranberry sauce, pears, apples, grapes, cheese, coffee, tea, milk.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — Things a columnist would never know if he didn't open his morning mail:

That American women are using less perfume now than they did eight years ago.

That, on the other hand, deodorant sales climbed 93 per cent between 1947 and 1953.

That acids in even the fairest skin are harmful to a pearl necklace. It should be sent to a jeweler once a year to be cleaned.

That during some fall and winter months as many as 15 million Americans may catch a cold in a single day.

That some 30 herbs are used in making a top-grade vermouth, including the flowers of "worm-wood," and such other fancy-named plants as sweet marjoram, angelica and blessed thistle.

That the National Dog Welfare Guild believes one way to keep your boy from running with a wolf-pack of juvenile delinquents is to give him a pooch to care for.

That while women still buy 55 to 60 per cent of all men's wear the percentage is dropping steadily.

Papa is getting more interested in his clothing every year, insists on picking it out himself.

That despite modern safety and health measures a recent survey showed there are 334,000 blind persons in the United States, the highest number in our history.

That the human ear is faster than the human eye. Tests have shown the average person reacts more quickly to a signal he hears than one he sees.

That approximately 15 million Americans have some hearing impairment, and the leading cause of deafness is probably hereditary.

That when Emperor Hirohito ascended the Japanese throne in 1926 his reign was designated as "Showa," meaning "the era of radiant peace."

That if you're a man 20 years old you have better than a two-out-of-three chance of living to be 65. But more than four out of five girls of 20 will hit the 65 mark.

Reds Training Economic Guns on the Free World

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Soviet Russia is now stepping up economic warfare against the free world. This is seen in Washington as the newest phase of the cold war.

Where political subversion has not proved effective in the past, the Communists are now apparently hoping that economic penetration will succeed.

The trip of Russian leaders Bulganin and Khrushchev to Afghanistan, Burma and India is viewed as sales promotion. The Russians are already building roads and communication facilities in Afghanistan. They are building a steel mill in India. Through the Czechs, an offer has been made to build another steel mill in India and one in Burma.

The widely publicized Czech deal to swap surplus arms to Egypt for raw cotton is only one phase of Communist infiltration in this area.

Considered Just As Important, though not as great a war threat, is the Russian offer to build the Aswan dam on the Nile River. The Russians have offered to finance construction at 2 per cent interest. That is tough to beat. The World Bank proposal to finance the dam is at 4 per cent.

The purpose behind these deals is analyzed here as no friendly gesture to liberalize cultural relations. An ambitious, two-fold motive is seen.

The first is to plant Soviet technicians in the free world countries. Indication of this is found in the new Russian interest in technical assistance to underdeveloped countries through the United Nations.

The second aim is believed to be a simple matter of securing critical materials. Getting rice from Burma, cotton from Brazil, rubber from Ceylon, coffee from Brazil, wheat and meat from the Argentine and Uruguay are examples.

In exchange, The Russians have been drawing freely on the resources of their European satellites. Thus Polish coal, East German chemicals and Czech machinery have figured in some of the Russian deals. Their newest "commodity" for economic warfare is outmoded planes, tanks, guns and ammunition.

Though the Communist countries are themselves short on oil, petroleum products from Russia and Rumania have been offered in trade to Latin-American countries. Red oil deliveries, however, have not been up to promises, according to reports received here.

Where absolutely necessary, the Russians will pay cash.

In recent months the Soviet Union has begun to sell gold again. Vice Adm. Walter S. DeLany, deputy director of the International Cooperation Administration in charge of mutual defense assistance control, has just disclosed this development in testimony before the Joint Congressional subcommittee on foreign economic policy.

There Are Two Examples of Soviet strategic cash buying in this country.

The first Russian farm mission bought Santa Gertrudis cattle in Texas to build up their livestock herds. The second Russian farm mission, now awaiting clearance to come to the U.S., wants to buy hybrid seed corn and farm machinery.

Today's volume of Communist bloc-free world trade is not large, according to the latest breakdown by Admiral DeLany. For the year ending June 30, 1955, it totaled 3.75 billion dollars.

This is only a little over 2 per cent of the 158 billion dollar volume of international trade among the free world countries for the same period. While free world trade has risen from 41 billion dollars in 1938 to 158 billion in 1955, trade with the Reds is still the same.

Because this east-west trade volume is small, a few officials in Washington believe it is unimportant. The prevailing opinion, however, is that all Communist trade is aimed at a strategic build-up. Any new increase in this trade is therefore important to watch.

Medicine Comes Long Way In Combating Diabetes

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

As we are observing Diabetes Week, it is appropriate therefore, to call attention to this important disease in a series of columns and to discuss a few aspects of it.

There are believed to be about three million persons with diabetes in the United States alone and many more in other parts of the world.

One question which is raised fairly frequently is whether women who have diabetes can have children.

Until recently, pregnancy for women with diabetes carried considerably greater risks and the death rate in children of diabetic mothers ranged as high as six out of ten.

Now, however, with rigid diet, restriction of salt, and other medical and surgical means, the outlook for the mother has been much improved, and the child as well.

In one series of patients who were given the most expert type of care during pregnancy, the mortality of the mothers was only one in two hundred, and 84 of one hundred children survived.

In giving these figures, however, it must be remembered that the comparatively favorable results apply only to those mothers who cooperated well with treatment in addition to receiving skilled medical attention.

EXPERT MEDICAL CARE is important also for victims of diabetes who are not pregnant.

Until the discovery of insulin about 30 years ago, people with diabetes almost always died of the disease eventually.

Even today people die of diabetes, but often this is their own fault because they have been careless about their diet or their insulin.

Sometimes the condition can be controlled merely by adjusting the diet so that the body does not have too much sugar to handle.

IN OTHER CASES if the diabetes is bad, dieting may not be enough and it is necessary to inject some of the secretion which we call insulin (obtained from animal pancreas) to help use up the excess sugar.

In the early days insulin had to be given before each meal in order to keep sugar from passing into the urine. Now preparations of insulin have been developed which are slow acting and produce effects which last for a long time.

In many cases of diabetes, therefore, it is possible to give only one or two injections a day. Thus it is often somewhat easier on the patient.

Arenzville PTA Told Of Teaching Methods

ARENZVILLE—It was announced at the November meeting of the Arenzville Parent-Teacher Association, held Thursday night in the junior high school, that the Community Unit 27 school board decided at a recent meeting that any funds raised by the PTA for this year's project, the purchase of playground equipment, will be matched by school funds.

The program, honoring education week, was devoted to explanation and demonstration of modern teaching methods as used in the local school. Superintendent Marvin G. West, acting as master of ceremonies, first explained the methods of teaching reading used in the school, in the light of the recent nationwide controversy concerning the subject of reading.

Mrs. Ruth K. Brasell then presented several of her second grade pupils in a demonstration of choral reading. They read these selections: "Washing," "Bingo" and "The Goblin." Mrs. Brasell then gave a brief explanation of the purposes and advantages of the study of choral reading.

Other choral readings were given by fifth and sixth grade students under the direction of their teacher Mrs. Delbert Aufdenkamp. They read the following poems: "The Turtle," "The Woodpecker," "The Dog," "The Purple Cow," "The Pigeon," "Buttercup the Cow" and "The Mouse." A trio reading was given by Pamela Westler, Ann Dober and Donna Alexander. "I'd Like To Be A Light-house."

A demonstration of a typical arithmetic lesson, studying the table of liquid measures, was given by Mrs. August Hansmeier and her fourth grade pupils.

Mrs. Delmos Hierman explained methods in current use in teaching seventh and eighth graders, and described, as an instance of coordinating textbook and experience teaching, the recent trip to Springfield taken by junior high school students and how it was used as a teaching aid in the study of state government and citizenship.

During the business session at the meeting it was announced that the annual grade school Christmas program will be presented on the afternoon of Dec. 21.

The band and vocal groups of the Arenzville and Chapin high schools will present a combined concert on the afternoon of Dec. 4, presenting music appropriate to the religious nature of the Christmas season.

Edward Wessler, co-chairman of the Band Boosters ways and means committee, announced the community auction to be held Nov. 30 at the school gym and urged everyone to bring something to the auction.

The meeting closed with group singing.

The next meeting to be held Dec. 15 will feature a Christmas movie and the singing of Christmas carols.

VERSAILLES METHODIST HOME-coming THANKSGIVING
VERSAILLES — The annual Thanksgiving dinner and bazaar will be held Thursday, Nov. 24, at the Methodist church.

The annual affair is attended as a homecoming by members and friends who unite for the delicious meal and congenial sociability.

The isthmus of Panama has been below sea level at various times in geologic history, thus joining the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

ROODHOUSE — Superintendent J. A. Mann of Jacksonville will speak before the Roodhouse Community P. T. A. Monday night at Washington School.

Pupils of both Mrs. Naomi Coker's and Mrs. Lloyd Smith's fifth grade rooms will sing under the direction of the music supervisor, Mrs. Arthur T. Broche.

Leadership Class Nov. 24
The second of a series of leadership training classes will meet in the First Baptist Church Tuesday night, Nov. 29, at 7:30 with the instructors, the Rev. H. L. Janvran and Mrs. Charles C. Barlow, in charge of the two groups.

Grid Banquet

The football squads of Roodhouse Community High School were feted at a banquet in the school cafeteria, served by the Mothers' Club, Friday evening. The invocation was given by the superintendent, Charles C. Barlow, and serving as toastmistress was a former teacher in the local school, Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson, now Greene County superintendent of schools. Mrs. Wilkinson introduced the president of the Mothers' Club, Mrs. Harvey Hodge, who welcomed the guests. Response was made by a senior member of the squads, Raymond Coker. Also receiving special recognition were captains George Cooper and Gary Cregmiles. Cooper was elected by his mates as the most valuable player and one of the honorary captains for the 1955 football season. Cregmiles, senior quarterback who was elected as co-captain was recognized as a valuable asset to his team.

Talks were given by Coach Alex McKnight and Coach Dale Pauley. The latter was interrupted near the completion of his talk by the entrance of one of the first team, Gary Hembrough, who bore a gaily decorated basket of baby shower gifts from the boys. The boys revealed the fact that the shower gifts were purchased by their mothers. Mr. and Mrs. Pauley recently became the parents of a daughter, Julia Ann. Following the banquet the guests attended the donkey basketball game in the school gym.

The same night, the football mothers met to elect officers for next year and named: Co-chairmen, Mrs. James Kenneth Hembrough and Paul Ballard, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Charles Sprague.

DEER DISEASE DISAPPEARS

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A mysterious disease, which killed more than 130 deer in Michigan in a month this fall, has disappeared. The Michigan Conservation Dept. said it believes the disease was a virus infection which principally covered a five-county area in the heart of Michigan's deer country.

ROODHOUSE — The literature and music department of the Woman's club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Winifred Strawn, with 22 members and guests present.

Response to roll call was "A Trip I'd Like To Take."

A very entertaining program was given by Miss Edith Wemple, who gave an account of her North Cape cruise aboard the beautiful floating hotel, The Caronia, of Cunard's cruise line. The trip of 38 days began on July 1, 1955, and included visits to the countries of Iceland, Norway, Lapland, Sweden, Denmark, Scotland, Ireland and England. Many side excursions were taken by train, bus and car. The club members greatly enjoyed the description and pictures of the countries visited by Miss Wemple.

ASHLAND

ASHLAND—Ashland high seniors have selected their motto, "After Commencement, Commence." The phrase was chosen for its seriousness and thought. They chose the pink carnation as the class flower and mint green and pastel pink, their colors. At the MYF meeting held Sunday night at the Methodist church, devotions were led by Helen Edwards. The junior high MYF also met Sunday evening. In the absence of the president, Norman Michael, the vice president, conducted the meeting. Devotions were led by Delores Winkelman.

The junior class at the high school has chosen for its play, "Commencement," a comedy to be presented Dec. 1 Miss Ellen Cummings is the director of the play.

42 Chickens Dead In Savage Attack By Unknown Foe

JERSEYVILLE—Sheriff Herman C. Krehner and Deputy Sheriff George Poleit were called to the Campbell Floral Company one mile west of Jerseyville on Route 16 about 6 p.m. Monday to investigate the slaughter of all the hens and roosters by some unknown animal, during the period from 3 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The floral company is owned and operated by Virgil Campbell. The latter was scheduled to make a delivery of a number of floral orders Monday afternoon in Calhoun county.

Anticipating that it would probably be dark before he returned, Campbell fed his chickens and other poultry before leaving for Calhoun county. When he returned about sundown and drove into the dooryard at the floral company, the first thing that attracted his attention were the bodies of hens and roosters strewn about the yard.

He examined the dead chickens and found that most of them had been bitten through the bodies, apparently by some large animal. The probability that the killer had been a weasel was discounted by the fact that the poultry had not been killed in the manner in which a weasel operates. Then, too, the killing had been done during daylight hours.

The theory that dogs had killed was then advanced, but this was questioned to a certain extent when it was found that Campbell's dog which remained at the place had apparently been worsted in a battle against some intruder. Campbell's dog, an airdale, considered better than an average watch dog, had suffered injuries and had been bitten through one foot. The belief that some animal more powerful than the average dog began to grow.

A total of 42 large hens and roosters were killed by the marauder during the several hours Campbell was away on his trip.

BRIDE-TO-BE FETED AT PARTY AT VERSAILLES

VERSAILLES—Miss Sue Ann Hume entertained a group of friends Saturday night, Nov. 19, at her home honoring Miss Jane Willey who will be wed Sunday, Nov. 27, to Glen James of Meredosia.

The colors of pink and white were carried out in the attractive decorative theme. Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to Miss Willey and the evening was spent socially.

40th Wedding Anniversary To Be Celebrated

Friends and relatives are invited to call between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

The Open House is being given by the sons and daughters-in-law of the honorees, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sackman of Alton, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Sackman and Alfred Sackman of Jerseyville.

Mr. and Mrs. Sackman were married Nov. 23, 1915 at St. Joseph's Church in Meppen, Calhoun County, Illinois. Mrs. Sackman was formerly Miss Clara Fiedler, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Chris Fiedler of Batchtown. Mr. Sackman's parents were the late Mr. and Mrs. Benedict Sackman of Batchtown.

HIGH-POWERED HONEY with the low-down price tag

How about this one?

How about this robust new 1956 Buick SPECIAL that comes to the American scene as the biggest prize-package of high-powered performance and high-fashion luxury ever offered in Buick's lowest-price Series?

For this one's priced so close to the well-known smaller cars, you can hardly count the difference. (And the price we show here proves it.)

But brother!—you can sure tell the difference when you see it, sit in it, drive it.

It's Buick styled with a new sweep-ahead look and sports-car snap—even to the raised-skirt rakishness of full rear-wheel cutouts.

It's Buick powered—with a big new 322-cubic-inch V8 engine that delivers its wall-popping power at a record-high compression of 8.9 to 1.

It's Buick solid—with a brilliantly engineered new chassis that puts a new buoyancy, a new leanness, a new sweetness to the car's every inch of travel.

It's Buick big and Buick roomy and Buick sure in its handling ease—and when you boss the miles in it, you know you have a brawny and beautifully balanced automobile under your command.

And for sure—at modest extra cost—you can have this high-powered honey with the sizzling double-action take-off of Buick's advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflo.

So—how about this one?

And how about coming in to see for yourself how much more sheer automobile your money buys here than the same money buys elsewhere? Come in this week and we'll show you that if you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and be a lot happier in the bargain.

†New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Happy Birthday, Dear Permanent Beauty Boon Is Fifty Years Old

Fifty years old this season, the permanent wave has unquestionably come a long way. The lass with the delicate air and the straight, straight hair (left) underwent her marvelous conversion center when the permanent wave was 18 years old, in 1923. By then, it had already advanced from the original version that put a bend in the hairline of a mane that was about three feet long. The very latest in salon permanents (right) is done with pincurls and produces a look that is natural.

It was fifty years ago this season that a young German hairdresser, working in London at his trade, (and making artificial eyelashes), produced the first permanent waving machine.

This process, which has come to mean curly hair that will last through rain and shampoo for women born with the poker-straight variety, was an instantaneous horror.

Beauticians recoiled in alarm at the prospect of something that would put them out of the business of giving marcel waves. This process, which ranks in the modern female mind with Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch and the bustle, was done with a hot iron. The curl vanished at the first hint of fog moisture or dew.

Charles Nessler was not discouraged. He poured his eyelash profits into the permanent wave gadget until he was able to produce a machine that was accepted by the trade and by the women of Europe.

At that time, Nessler recommended trimming five-foot-long manes to a modest three feet for application of the wave at the hairline.

In 1915, Nessler arrived in New York with his machine and a new name, Nestle. The beauty business was in such a state that year that only three American hairdressers made enough money to pay income tax.

Nestle settled on 46th Street and opened a salon. His machine then looked like something out of the Grand Guignol. It had three dozen heating devices around which the hair was wound and it literally hung the customer from the ceiling.

Wise American women were quick to reject such an affair. But pretty soon, like so many mass acceptances, the brave began to have their hair curled in this manner and the results were such that the timid had to follow.

When operators first worked this device, a permanent took 18 hours. It was cut to four as the beauticians became more skillful.

When bobbed hair came in, the permanent wave was assured of permanent success.

Once things got going, Nestle wasn't the only man in the business. The LeMur company worked out a method that used steam rather than dry heat. In 1928, the two companies merged to form the Nestle LeMur Company, an outfit that's more in the business than ever these days.

The pre-heat machine came in 1931; the cold wave in 1942.

The final results of Nessler and his fake-eyelash profits: between 70 and 80 million women were turned from straight-haired Cinderellas to curly-haired princesses by professional salons in 1954.

Pittsfield Stores Announce Holiday Business Hours

PITTSFIELD — The retail merchants committee of the Chamber of Commerce, meeting with its president, Virgil Kriegerhauser, has decided on a schedule for store hours during the Christmas holidays.

Stores will be open on the nights of Friday Dec. 16, and from Tuesday, December 20, through Friday the 23rd, but will close at 6 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 24.

Mr. Kriegerhauser appointed the following committee for Christmas activities: Levi Morin, Dick Niebur, Leo Hayes, Paul Findley, Raymond Pyre and Loyd Yaeger.

The Jaycees will place trees around the business section of the city and the Santa Claus house will occupy its customary place at the northeast corner of the courthouse lawn.

With parking problems still a matter of concern in the city, and much criticism about the merchants and their employees using too much of the available space, all merchants and employees and office workers are requested to park their cars at least one block off the square on Friday of this week to test the matter.

Announcement Engagement
Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lemons of Milton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Evelyn Ruth Lemons and Robert Carl Land, son of Mrs. Kathryn Palmer of Fontana, Calif., and the late Carl Land of Winchester. An early spring wedding is planned by the couple.

Direct Fund Drive
Stuart Landess Jr., Grand Knight, and other officers of the Pittsfield Council of the Knights of Columbus, are directing locally the fund raising activities for the Newman Foundation at the University of Illinois which has been named the major Catholic activity of the Illinois Knights of Columbus. Officers of the district and diocese are assisting the local council with the project. Twelve Catholic men in this area have recently been initiated as members of the local council.

Hang Your Cleaning Supply Woes Wall Or Door Hangers Add Badly Needed Storage Space

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

When storage space is parceled out for household effects, the orphans are the cleaning mops, brooms and dustpans we use every day.

It doesn't make sense, but you know (as well as I do) that the cleaning "closet" is apt to be a glossy description for a huddle of utensils parked dangerously on the basement stairs or in the corner of the back porch.

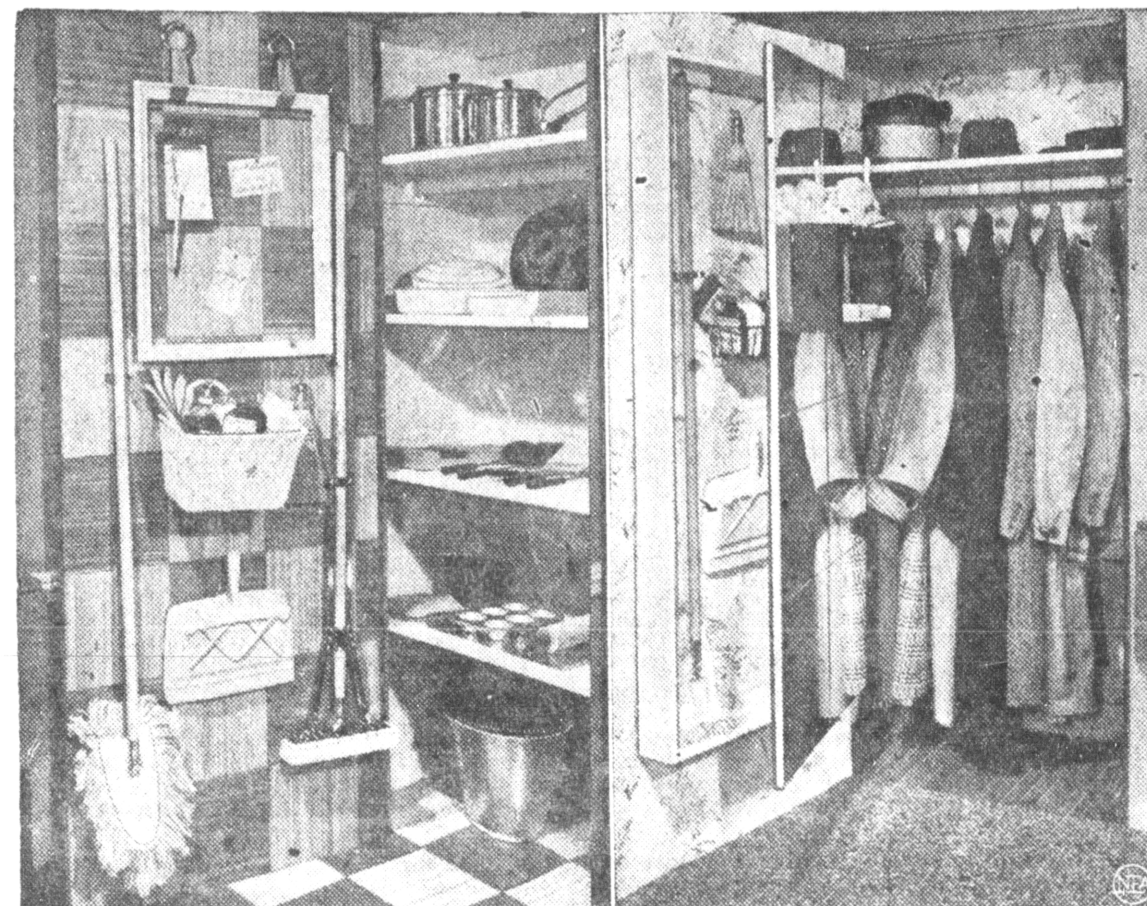

Stingy as storage facilities may be in a house, homemakers in apartments have an even tighter squeeze.

It was an apartment homemaker's complaint that led me to ask Betty Woods, director of the O'Ceal Home Service Institute, what she could offer in the way of advice. If we must contrive storage space for our cleaning mops, we should aim for an attractive accessible place.

Manufacturers cooperate with this aim by producing more attractive utensils which can be hung up in public view without apologies. Look at the fluffy pink nylon mops, for example, and the pastel plastic dustpans and brooms.

Miss Woods offered three suggestions which look to me as if they'd work out in a house or in an apartment.

First, if your kitchen boasts only one closet (which must hold cooking utensils, groceries and cleaning supplies), here's one solution: Glue surplus floor tile to the inside door panel to make an easily scrubbable surface for hanging dry mop, sponge mop, dustpan and a basket of waxes and cleaners.

These handsome ideas for orderly cleaning "closets" were worked out by O'Ceal Home Service Institute. At left, a kitchen door is backed with tile to make a clean background for cleaning equipment. A lumber frame with plywood door, right, is hung inside the guest closet to conceal workaday equipment. Mirror fronts the hidden compartment.

A picture frame hung on cur-area, outline utensil positions with tan rings outlines a bulletin board a giddy, painted-on design. Where memos can be tacked directly to the tile.

If there is a kitchen wall area, possible near the back door, hang the utensils in an orderly array. Just for fun and to brighten up the

The plywood door is covered with inexpensive mirror squares to camouflage the utensils hung behind it. She added a metal shelf to the mirrored door front for cosmetics so that guests can freshen up after hanging up their coats.

Says GM Varied Activities Should Be Separated

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Tennessee auto supply wholesaler has suggested that the huge General Motors Corp., which engages in a wide range of manufacturing activities, "should be broken into single separate and distinct operations."

The proposal, which he would apply also to "other giants" came Tuesday from John W. Duke of Nashville during testimony before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee in its study of GM. Duke, who said he sold more than one million dollars worth of auto supplies — including some GM products — last year, said it would be "unfair" to single out GM. He said other giants of the transportation manufacturing industry also should be "divested of their finance business, in intermingling of directorships and ownership in dealerships."

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), presiding over the hearing, indicated he was not in sympathy with Duke's proposal. Instead, O'Mahoney restated his belief that all corporations doing interstate business should be required to obtain federal charters and thus come under direct federal supervision. Duke said that in his opinion GM is violating federal antitrust laws, engaging in false advertising and is so powerful it could put all independent competitors out of business.

AND EMPLOYEES

Gen. Phil Sheridan ordered Wild Bill Hickok's arrest "dead or alive" as a result of the saloon battle. Hickok went hunting till "things blew over."

Gen. Custer, whose troops were involved in the free-for-all, cleared Wild Bill. An already warm relationship was cemented into ironclad friendship.

Hickok also made enemies. "I'll get you some day," said Bill Thompson, a notorious gambler, when the marshal ordered him to leave Hays City.

Traditional Games On Thanksgiving: Sees No Major Titles At Stake

Bears Best So Far In Offense; Pitt. Steelers Are 2nd

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rolling along unimpeded, the Chicago Bears increased their advantage as the best offensive team in the National Football League.

The Bears, grabbing first place in the western division with their sixth straight win last Sunday, gained over 400 yards for the fifth successive week.

Official NFL statistics released Wednesday showed the Bears with a total yardage gained in nine games of 3,610-1,953 on the ground and 1,657 through the air.

The Pittsburgh Steelers remained in second place offensively, but 542 yards behind the Bears, with a total of 3,066-1,135 rushing and 1,933 passing. Los Angeles was third with 2,946 followed by Detroit with 2,921 and Green Bay 2,893.

Cleveland's Browns, heading the eastern division, is second behind the Bears in yardage gained rushing — 1,550 — followed by Green Bay, 1,529.

Pittsburgh is the best passing team, but the Lions are only 17 yards behind with 1,913 followed by Philadelphia 1,731 and Chicago Bears 1,657.

Detroit Lions Play Host To Packers Thanksgiving Day

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Lions have little to lose when they meet the Green Bay Packers in their annual Thanksgiving Day game in Briggs Stadium.

The contest starts at 11 a.m. (CST) and will be nationally televised (ABC), with a 75-mile black-out around Detroit.

A victory will mean little to the downtrodden Lions in the National Football League standings. It merely will strengthen their chances of climbing out of last place in the western division.

On the other hand, a defeat will give them the first regular choice in Monday's player draft in Philadelphia.

The Lions have the worst mark in both divisions this season—two victories and seven defeats. One more loss will make it certain that Coach Buddy Parker will get the first pick when the regular draft starts following the "bonus" choice.

Green Bay, Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cardinals are the only teams still eligible for the "bonus" choice.

The draft is conducted by letting the team with the worst record have the first choice and so on down the line.

Thursday's game has more immediate consequences for Green Bay, which still is harboring title thoughts despite its mediocre 5-4 record.

K. L. Wilson Lauds Michigan For Its Public Apology

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten commissioner Wednesday reviewed the penalty-jammed closing minutes of last Saturday's Ohio State-Michigan game and concluded the incident was "regrettable" but "enlarged out of all proportion to existing facts."

Commissioner K. L. (Tug) Wilson, in a prepared statement, said the election of two Michigan players in the hectic 17-0 loss to Ohio State came from behavior which was "an understandable by-product of frustration and demoralization."

The two players were end Ron Kramer and tackle Lionel Sigmund. They left during the game's final four minutes when six penalties were meted to Michigan and two to Ohio State, plus two offsetting double penalties.

The statement lauded Michigan authorities for their public apology after the incident.

UCLA TO START PRACTICE FOR ROSE BOWL DEC. 10

LOS ANGELES (AP) — UCLA's Rose Bowl-bound Bruins will start practicing for the Jan. 2 classic Dec. 10, Coach (Red) Sanders said Wednesday.

The team will work five days a week preparing to meet their Big Ten opponent, Michigan State.

Sanders said that after the start of the school's Christmas vacation Dec. 19 double workouts, morning and afternoon, may be held if necessary.

NOTRE DAME HOLDS FINAL PRACTICE AT HOME

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Notre Dame's football squad held its final home practice of the season Wednesday polishing its defense for the single wing attack Southern California is expected to employ Saturday.

A 40-member Irish squad will leave by chartered airplane Thursday morning for Los Angeles.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Although college football is shedding traditional ties, half a dozen or so major games are on the schedule Thursday just because those teams always play on Thanksgiving Day.

The heavier part of this week's college program is listed for Saturday with the biggest of all traditional games, Army vs. Navy, and such others as Notre Dame-Southern California, Vanderbilt-Tennessee, Georgia Tech-Georgia, Mississippi-Mississippi State and Oklahoma-Oklahoma A. and M.

One Thanksgiving Day game — Texas A. and M. vs. Texas — is expected to settle the usual mad scramble for the Southwest Conference championship and two others offer teams opportunities to tie for their conference titles.

The Texas Aggies, ranked eighth in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll are undefeated, though tied once, in conference play and have lost only to powerful UCLA. Still they have to win this one to keep the title safe from the threat of bowl-bound Texas Christian, which winds up its regular season against Southern Methodist Saturday. TCU has lost only once in five conference games.

Even if they win, the Aggies can't play in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2 because they're on probation for recruiting violations. TCU already has been designated as the host team.

Wyoming's Cowboys and Wichita's Wheatshockers can tie for the titles in the Skyline and Missouri Valley conferences if they win Thursday over Denver and Tulsa, respectively. Wyoming has a 5-1 record in its league as compared to 6-1 for the Colorado Aggies, who have only a non-conference game against Colorado. Wichita needs a victory over defensively weak Tulsa team to pull even with Detroit in the valley standings.

Another Skyline game pits Utah against Utah State.

Miami of Ohio, with the Mid-American Conference title secured, tries to complete its first perfect season in more than 30 years against Cincinnati.

No titles are at stake in the traditional Thanksgiving games in the East and South.

At Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and Cornell clash for the 62nd time since 1893. Penn hasn't won a game in more than two years. Richmond is favored over William and Mary. Colgate, one of the East's better independent teams, is favored over Brown and Virginia Tech is given the edge over Virginia Military.

Centre College Of Kentucky Won't Go To Tangerine Bowl

DANVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Centre College said Wednesday its undefeated football team will not play in the Tangerine Bowl because of its failure to receive an adequate financial guarantee.

The bowl committee had offered Centre an $8,000 guarantee but the school said it would need at least $10,000 to cover total expenses. Tuesday, Centre narrowed its demands to $9,500 but the committee would go no higher than $8,000.

Centre said the amount offered would have required its team to travel to and from Orlando, Fla., by bus. This is a method of travel which Centre has not used for its football teams for the last four years, the school said.

The school said it has telegraphed Orlando to withdraw its name from all further consideration.

Centre ended its season with an 8-0 record, its first undefeated season since 1921. The Colonels also led the nation's small colleges in offense by averaging 431 yards per game to set a new record.

POLICE GUARD LIFTED FROM HOME OF SPARTAN COACH

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A police guard was lifted Wednesday from the home of Michigan State football Coach Duffy Daugherty, who received a threatening letter prior to Saturday's Marquette game.

The anonymous letter, mailed from Newark, N.Y., told Daugherty not to beat Marquette by more than six points "or something terrible will happen to you and your fine football team."

"I figured it was just a crank letter, but police insisted on the protection up until and during the game," Daugherty said.

MSU defeated Marquette 33-0.

FRANKLIN FOOTBALL BANQUET

ALEXANDER (Special) — The annual Franklin football banquet was held Tuesday night at Alexander grade school. Coach Farley awarded 16 major letters and 13 minor letters. The school also honored the cheerleaders.

Jerry Mulquin and Alfred Coe were elected captains for next year's team. Jim Allen received the most valuable player traveling trophy for 1955. This year's record was 2 wins, 4 losses and one tie.

Al Miller touched the high points on what a high school football player means to his school and community.

Guests were IC footballers Henry Jackson and Bob Hembrough.

Army Coach Thinks Team Will Be Hard To Beat Saturday

BY WILL GRIMSLEY

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP) — Army Coach Earl Blaik, terming his team more ready mentally than a year ago, said Wednesday if the Cadets play their best game against Navy Saturday "we'll be hard to beat."

"That is all the prediction I'd like to make about the game," the lean grid master of West point added at a press conference preceding a light workout by the Army squad.

"A year ago just before the Navy game I was stricken with a virus and I was talking through a lot of myelin drugs but I felt convinced we could win the game. Of course we didn't (Navy won 27-20)."

"Now I think our present team is in a better mental attitude. The boys have no illusions about the job they have to do to win."

"I believe from a psychological standpoint they are as ready as they can be."

The Army coach said he was undecided whether to start Bob Kvasky, his limping junior, at halfback.

"We'll definitely start Don Hollender and Pat Uebel in the backfield. At the other positions, I don't know. It'll be either Peter Lash and Joe Cyler or Kvasky and Dick Murland."

The starting line is set with Ralph Chenauskas and Art Johnson at ends, Loren Reid and Dick Stephenson at tackles, Play Goodwin and Stanley Slater at guards and Ed Szvetecz at center.

The Army squad will leave for Philadelphia Friday morning.

Virginia Downs Balyki 63-50

VIRGINIA (SPECIAL) — Coach Harold Hillman and his basketball club celebrated its annual homecoming with a win over Balyki 63-50.

Virginia led from the very start and was never headed. The subs played most of the fourth quarter. The big noise for Virginia was Mann with 22. Edken led Balyki with 12. Virginia also won the preliminary 40-28.

WARRIORS DEFEAT SYRACUSE 104-101

BOSTON (AP) — The Philadelphia Warriors won their sixth straight victory after an opening game loss by defeating the Syracuse Nationals 104-101 Wednesday night in a National Basketball Assn. game.

The first southpaw to win the American Bowling Congress tournament singles title was Marshall Levey of St. Louis. He tied with a 624 series in 1907 at St. Louis, then won the rollout.

Attendance For Illini Football Drops; 1955 Statistics Released

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Nov. 23 — Football attendance for Illinois' schedule of nine games in 1955 totaled 464,469, a drop of more than 14,000 from 1954's record-breaking figures, but the mark is surpassed by only eight other years in Illini gridiron history.

The Illini drew 209,682 spectators to Memorial Stadium for four games, averaging 52,420 per contest. On the road Illinois played before 254,787, an average of 50,957.

The attendance drop was directly attributable to two road games at California where only 32,000 attended and at Northwestern where the crowd was 35,000.

Jim Minor, 20-year-old junior center from Chicago (Leo), has been named captain-elect of the 1956 University of Illinois football team.

Playing his first season of collegiate football following a shoulder operation, Minor was one of the current squad's "iron men," participating in 410 minutes of action during nine games.

Em Lindbeck, Kewanee senior quarterback, was chosen most valuable player. He was the only squad member to top Minor in minutes played, having been in for 418 of the 540 minutes possible.

Illinois' impressive 1955 football performances were dominated by players who return next season. Final statistics reveal. While Coach Ray Eliot loses quarterback Em Lindbeck, who topped the team in total offense and passing and was second in scoring, and end Bob DesEnfants, who led in pass receiving, he will have most of his offensive stars back in 1956.

Illinois' top seven ball carriers are underclassmen, including Bobby Mitchell who averaged 8.3 yards per carry. Abe Woodson, who had a 6.8 average, and Harry Jefferson, who totaled 514 yards for lead in that phase. Woodson and Nitschke, who handled virtually all punting, will return, as will number two passer Hiles Stout and six of the eight leading pass receivers.

Here are 1955 departmental leaders and their accomplishments: rushing, Mitchell, 61 carries, 504 yards, 8.3 average; passing, Lindbeck, 86 attempts, 39 completions, three interceptions, 588 yards, three touchdowns, 45.3 average; pass receiving, DesEnfants, 12 catches, 206 yards, one touchdown; punting, Woodson, 22 punts, 39.6-yard average; scoring, Mitchell, five touchdowns, 30 points.

ROODHOUSE (Special) — Coach Jim Spink's I.S.D. Tigers gained their second basketball victory in two days here last night as they clobbered host Roodhouse High School 75-48.

I.S.D.'s superior height told heavily in the game. The Tigers controlled both blackboards throughout the contest.

Ritchey and Mehring led the Tiger attack with 16 markers apiece; center Hembrough netted 13 to pace Roodhouse.

SPORTS TRAIL

By WHITNEY MARTIN
NEW YORK (AP) — Little League baseball players who are taught sportsmanship, fair play and other Golden Rule practices possibly are a little puzzled over the controversy surrounding the administration of their program by their elders.

Briefly, the situation is this: Carl Stotz, who originated the program on a local level at Williamsport, Pa., with no idea it would become national in scope, was named commissioner when it assumed business proportions and received the backing of an affluent sponsor.

Stotz now charges he and volunteer workers no longer have anything to say about the policies of the organization. He had the offices padlocked and said he would sue for $300,000, giving any money he might be awarded to perpetuating the program in its original form.

We aren't sufficiently familiar with the inner workings of the Little League to have an opinion as to who is right and who is wrong, but of one thing we're sure.

That is, the whole sordid mess is a direct and unwholesome contrast to the acknowledged purposes of the program, and is putting those whose duty it is to set an example for the youngsters under their jurisdiction in the position of not practicing what they preach.

The Little League is a fine program. It has its critics, sure. Some claim that comparatively few boys get the benefits, and those less adept are left on the outside. Others claim the tournaments put too great an emotional strain on the lads.

But on the whole it is well worth while, giving kids a chance to learn baseball young, and have the opportunity to play under adult supervision, with first-class equipment.

It would seem to be a simple program to operate. The rules are clear. Why there should be any need for controversy over policy is puzzling. If it's good for the boys, that would seem to be the only policy necessary.

Stotz has no idea of commercializing the program. He started it purely for the recreational benefit for boys of his community. Profit still should not enter the picture, directly or indirectly. If it is for the kids, that should be reward enough except for those hired to devote full time to essential work.

As mentioned, we don't know enough about the trouble to express an opinion, but this much is obvious:

Somebody is wrong. And in being wrong he, or they, are doing a disservice to the program by making the kids skeptical of the noble qualities of the men they are expected to emulate.

Leathernecks Favored To Retain IIAC Title With Ten Lettermen

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — A repeat performance in the Interstate Conference basketball race appears to be in the offing with Western Illinois, defending champion, favored to retain its title.

Coach Leroy (Stix) Morley has 10 lettermen back along with some impressive looking freshmen. The Leathernecks won 11 and lost one last season to win undisputed loop honors.

Heading Western's parade of returning lettermen are: Centers Chuck Schramm 6-6, Ron Nikcevic 6-6, Forwards Marshall Stiner 6-3, Don Talbot 6-4, Joe Reynolds 6-5, and John Henson 6-2; Guards Lupe Rios 6-2, Gene Talbot 6-4, Don Ressler 6-2, Jim Hunter 6-0, and Chuck Behrends 6-1.

Biggest scramble appears to be for runner up honors with Southern Illinois, Eastern Illinois, Northern Illinois and Central Michigan figured to battle it out.

Elsewhere around the conference major rebuilding jobs are in process at Illinois Normal and Michigan Normal.

Michigan Normal has only three lettermen returning from a club that placed second a year ago. Missing will be such stellar performers as Webster Kirksey, Nick Many, Cleon Gilliam, Andy Shepard and Ray Pogliano. Everything will be new for Coach Jim Skala at Michigan Normal including a fieldhouse, one of the largest in the nation.

Around the conference Eastern Illinois has six returning lettermen, Central Michigan 10, Michigan Normal three, Western Illinois 10, Northern Illinois five, Southern Illinois eight, and Illinois Normal four.

Opening non-league action for most teams will be the first week in December. Central Michigan travels to Michigan Normal December 14 in the first conference action.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market advanced Wednesday in its second straight step toward a new record high mark.

It faltered toward the finish, however, as traders and others got ready for the Thanksgiving Day recess.

Throughout the session, trading was enlivened by a long succession of dividend declarations and stock split proposals.

That sent some shares skidding down abruptly or soaring ahead for striking gains.

Most gains went to between $1 and $3 at the outside while losses usually were no greater than $2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 90 cents at $180.20. The record high last Sept. 23 was $181.50. All three components of the average were higher—industrials 80 cents, rails $1.70, and utilities 10 cents.

Volume amounted to 2,550,000 shares as compared with 2,270,000 traded Tuesday when the market was strong.

The American Stock Exchange was somewhat mixed on volume of 830,000 shares against 740,000 Tuesday.

New York Bond Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Convertible issues registered slight gains in a mixed bond market Wednesday.

U. S. Treasury issues rallied for the second day to recover most but not all of their losses since the hike in the Federal Reserve's rediscount rate last Friday.

Volume on the Big Board declined to $3,210,000 par value from $7,340,000 Tuesday.

ALL GRAINS LOSE, MOST LOSSES SMALL

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—All grains recorded losses, mostly rather small, in a somewhat more active market on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

Soybeans and oats were under the most pressure. A large cash house was credited with selling December oats. Wheat at one time staged a little rally but it quickly fell back again.

Wheat closed 1/4-1/2 lower, corn 3/4-1/2 lower, oats 3/4-1/2 lower, rye unchanged to 1/2 lower, soybeans 3/4-1/2 lower and laid 5 to 25 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Once again soybeans were upset by the action of soybean meal. Down $1.00, it sold at a new 10 years low of $46.00 to $47.00 a ton. Bean oil also declined, as did loose lard.

There also appeared to be some selling in corn and oats in sympathy with the extreme weakness in soybean meal, which indicated a glutted feed market to many traders. The Agriculture Department expected feed grain prices to average less in 1955-56 than in 1954-55.

The government sold two million bushels of milo to exporters at Gulf of Mexico ports at $1.88 1/2 to $1.89 1/2 a hundred pounds. This price was up from that prevailing for previous sales. Great Britain bought a little corn.

Traders felt the liquidation in oats, particularly the December contract, was inspired by belief there would be substantial quantities of cash grain offered on December contracts.

A little buying flurry sent wheat prices back to around the previous closing level at midday. This was based on news Israel, Brazil and Peru were expected in the market shortly for cash wheat and wheat flour.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—In a moderately active market butchers hogs weighing less than 225 gained about 25 cents Wednesday. Other butchers held steady. Sows, steady to strong early, closed weak.

Buyers paid $11.00 to $12.00 for most 190 to 230-pound butchers. The practical top was unchanged at $12.25 although a 22-head lot did fetch $12.50.

Most 230 to 260-pound butchers sold at $10.50 to $11.00 while 260 to 300-pounds brought $10.00 to $10.50. Sows went at $8.75 to $10.00. Salable receipts totaled 11,000.

Steers and heifers mostly sold steady to 50 cents higher; bulk prime steers topping at $23.00. Choice and prime brought $19.00 to $23.25. Comparable heifers were taken at $19.50 to $22.00. Salable receipts totaled 11,000.

Cows were steady to strong at $9.25 to $12.00 for utility and commercial and $8.00 to $9.75 for canners and cutters. Vealers sold steady to $1.00 lower at $23.00 down.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 2,500. Lambs sold weak to 50 cents lower at $18.00 to $19.50 for most good to prime woolled offerings. A few lots reached $19.60 to $19.75.

Pressure Mounts For Reinstatement of State Police Capt. Engstrom

These are the charges which Brown filed against Engstrom:
1. As commander of Battalion 7 with supervision of Police Districts 1 and 7 he failed to give equal attention to both units and failed to permit Lt. Raymond H. Cramer to assume his duties as commander of District 1.
2. On Feb. 21, he used "coarse, profane and abusive language" to Cramer and Sgt. Phillip M. Schermerborn and Robert S. Heindel, and also failed to treat Cramer with "civility and respect."
3. On numerous occasions Engstrom made "remarks and statements affronting, cursing and otherwise abusing other Illinois State Police officers, resulting in the lowering of morale and discrediting the division of state highway police."

4. He failed to make regular monthly inspections of his units and on Sept. 27 he left his command for six hours without notifying his superiors.
Engstrom formerly commanded state police in the Chicago area. He was transferred to Sterling on Sept. 15, 1953.

Benson Asks Public For Ideas On Solving Problems Of Farmers

President's youngest brother, had interceded with the President to save Benson's job, Benson said he had been assured by the President's brother that it was not true. Benson said he "inherited a difficult situation" from the Truman administration, and that three-fifths of the decline in farm prices occurred before he took office.
"I don't care about fixing blame," he said, "but the record stands." The question is how to get out of our problem."
He listed skidding farm prices, price controls, accumulating surpluses and rigid supports as part of the problem he inherited. He said the only reason right supports

To Seal Records In School Cornerstone

Officials of School District 117 and interested citizens will take time out from their Thanksgiving Day schedule to attend cornerstone laying ceremonies for the new junior high school on Lincoln avenue, now under construction. The public is invited to attend the ceremonies, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

A cross-section of community and cultural life of Jacksonville will be sealed in steel and concrete when a large number of records and publications are placed in the cornerstone box. A complete picture of Jacksonville educational life in 1955 will be stored away in one of the main pillars of the new $900,000 building.

A copper box will be filled with school directories, teachers' and students' manuals, Parent-Teacher Association yearbooks, lists of names of pupils and the Citizens' Advisory committee, a textbook list, and other items.
Cornerstone exercises will be brief, and probably will last only half an hour.
The program will be as follows:
Music, David Prince Junior High School Band, James Welch, director.
Invocation, Rev. Joseph W. Baus, First Presbyterian church.
Introduction of Board of Education, J. A. Mann, superintendent of schools.
Remarks, R. Karl Baker, representing Citizens' Advisory committee; Mrs. Jay Hamilton, representing P.T.A.; Mrs. Amy Roach, representing teachers; T. C. Rammelkamp, representing the Board of Education.
Laying of Cornerstone, T. C. Rammelkamp, R. Karl Baker, Benediction, Rev. Baus.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst
There seems to be about a 50-50 chance that France will return to the United Nations General Assembly before this session ends.

Nobody seems to care much whether South Africa, the other walk-out, returns or not.

The overwhelming sentiment at the U.N. seems to be that France made a mistake in walking out rather than defend herself from Arab charges regarding the conduct of affairs in Algiers. But France is one of the great powers, and they want her back.

Toward that end, India has dropped again into the role of mediator which she so often assumes, regardless of the fact that she is a member of the Bandung bloc which initiated the action against France.

Observers now believe the Arab bloc can be satisfied, without pressing for a substantial decision, if they can get their arguments—or propaganda—into the record during procedural debate.

The debate is expected to come over a move to delete the Algerian item from the agenda. In some cases that can be done under a U. N. Charter provision providing for a majority vote. Some are claiming this case requires two-thirds.

India's new position does not seem to be a break of any sort with the Bandung bloc, but rather just an effort to be in the middle of things and add to her record as a would-be mediator.

The whole business has been painful to the membership as a whole and especially to Britain and the United States, who would like to have kept Russia as the only

Masonic Lodges To Benefit By Court Decision

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court in a decision announced Wednesday affirmed the Adams county court which ruled that certain bequests of the late Ernest G. Schureman were exempt from the state inheritance tax because they were charitable.

Schureman willed $58,616 to the Masonic board of control, Jacksonville, and $66,616 to the Quincy Masonic Temple Assn. The state had contended the gifts were not for benevolent or charitable purposes because the will did not limit the money to the benevolent or charitable activities of the fraternal groups.

Ernest G. Schureman was a member of Jacksonville Lodge No. 570, Ancient Free and Accepted Masons. He formerly resided in Jacksonville but was a resident of Quincy for many years before his death.

Mr. Schureman in addition to bequeathing $58,616 to the Masonic Board of Control in this also, also made smaller bequests to other Masonic bodies in this city. He was a brother of the late C. C. Schureman for many years a plumbing contractor in Jacksonville.

Male Jury Acquits Woman Who Shot Mate In Scuffle

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—A jury of men acquitted a former woman Marine sergeant of murder Tuesday night in the slaying of her Marine lieutenant husband after they argued over how she should cook pork chops for their dinner.

Mrs. Elizabeth Goricki, 42, wept when the jury returned its verdict after deliberating six hours. She had testified that Lt. Edward Goricki, 40, was shot accidentally while they scuffled after the pork chop argument May 22.

She said her husband had beat, slapped and kicked her at various times during their marriage but that "We were the happiest people in Arlington."

As to the pork chops, she testified she was preparing a dinner of smoked pork chops for dinner. "You don't fry them, you boil them and then brown them in butter," she explained.

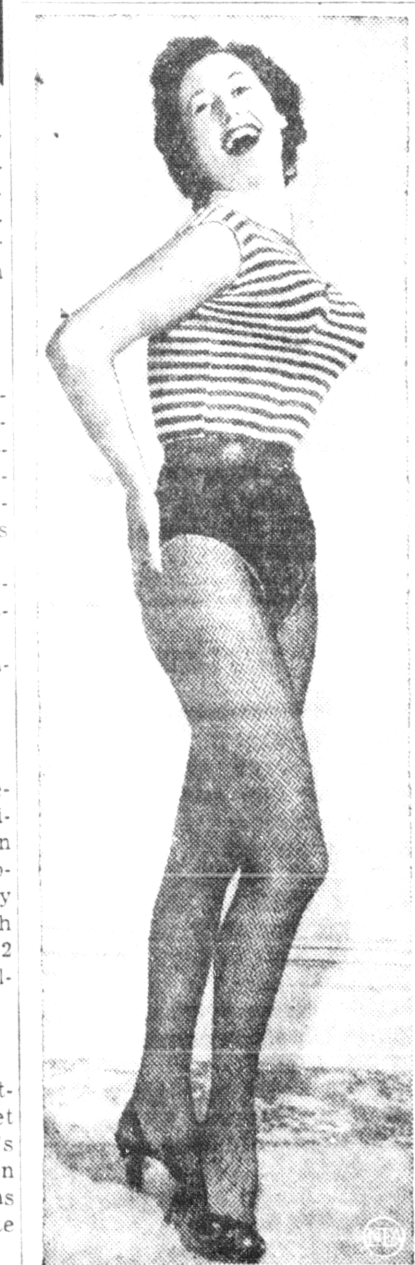

Her husband, she said, came into the kitchen, and "screamed that they wouldn't be fit to eat and I wasn't doing them the right way."

Later, she said, her husband kicked and beat her. They scuffled. A gun was fired twice, Goricki fell to the floor.

LACHINE, Que. (AP)—The Royal Canadian Air Force is starting this week its annual drop of Christmas cheer to the isolated Arctic outposts. Flying Boxcars will parachute 11,000 pounds of mail, Christmas trees, fresh rations and emergency gear.

Family Together For Holiday

not been worked out. But Hagerty did say that, "The family plans Christmas at the White House."

One reason for that may be the fact that John and Barbara expect to make him a grandfather for the fourth time about then.

The schedule was worked out in consultations with Hagerty and Sherman Adams, presidential assistant.

The session followed Eisenhower's weekly checkup by his personal physician Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, and Col. Thomas W. Mattingly, head of the heart department at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

"The President," they reported, "continues to convalesce satisfactorily. There are no complications. 'There have been no symptoms or evidence of fatigue from the activities of his office or at the farm. . . . The President is sleeping, relaxing and resting well.'"

Probably, Hagerty said, Dr. White's examination of the President Dec. 17 will determine whether the chief executive will be ready to return to the White House permanently at Christmas time.

As for a meeting between Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Anthony Eden here or in Washington, Hagerty said he knows of no plans for one at this time.

That was in response to a question about reports from London that Eden would welcome an invitation to discuss cold war strategy with the chief executive.

fight tuberculosis

Dr. Drennan will attend the conference as a layman interested in education representing the Illinois Medical Society. He served on the Illinois Planning Committee of 30 appointed by Governor Stratton, which has been active since last March.

Mr. VanTuyle, a prominent resident of the Manchester community, is a former member of the Scott county school unit board.

The invitation entitles them to participate in the national meeting on schools, first ever called by a President of the United States, along with some 2,000 other citizens from 33 States and Territories. The White House Conference follows similar meetings called by the Governors of the States and Territories during the past year, in response to the President's call for "the most thorough, widespread and concerted study the American people have ever made of their educational problems."

Expect 2,000 Delegates

Of the 2,000 persons attending, 1,400 are selected by the States and Territories in accordance with population, 300 are representatives of national organizations with interests in education, and the remaining 300 are members of Congress, Governors, chief State school officers, foreign observers, discussion leaders and others.

The program in Washington was arranged by the President's Committee for the White House Conference on Education, a 34-member group headed by Neil H. McElroy of Cincinnati, Ohio, president of the Procter & Gamble Company.

Six Subjects Listed

Participants in the White House Conference will discuss six subjects which have been studied previously in most of the 4,000 community and 33 State and Territorial conferences on education during 1935. The topics are:

(1) What should our schools accomplish? (2) In what ways can we organize our school systems more efficiently and economically? (3) What are our school building needs? (4) How can we get enough good teachers—and keep them? (5) How can we finance our schools—build and operate them? (6) How can we obtain a continuing public interest in education?

The Conference will be held at the Sheraton-Park Hotel in Washington, beginning the evening of November 28. Conference Director Clint Pace said discussion of the subjects would be by groups of eleven persons at each of 180 tables.

Santa Will Arrive At 3 O'Clock Friday

It can snow and blow between now and Christmas, but Santa Claus will be snug and comfortable in his gayly decorated house which has been set up in Central Park, east of the monument.

Santa should feel at home when he arrives at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. He has occupied the little cottage for several years. It is heated for the comfort of the genial old fellow, who will greet thousands of youngsters here during the next few weeks.

Christmas decorations are going up in readiness for arrival of Santa Claus. The business session will be brightened up with holiday attire by the time St. Nick checks into town.

Eight foot candy canes dangle from the mercury-vapor light poles. Eight reindeer with noses that light up—just like Rudolph's—will be located on poles along the park curb line.

The impressive Nativity scene, will be installed in the park within a short time.

Schools will be dismissed Thursday and Friday for the Thanksgiving season, so that children will have opportunity to be on hand Friday afternoon when Santa comes to town.

There has been no announcement as to what means of transportation he will use. The Chamber of Commerce has been conducting a guessing contest, with theater tickets for all children who guess the way Santa will ride to Jacksonville.

The blank for guessing appears the last time in Wednesday's Courier and Thursday's Journal.

Santa Claus will follow a busy schedule from Friday, Nov. 25 through Christmas week. He will be at his Central park "apartment" from 2 to 4 p.m. daily, and on Saturday will extend his hours by receiving children from 10 to 11 a.m.

The Chamber of Commerce and Santa Claus will be "ticked pink" to have little boys and girls visit Santa. Parents are welcome, too.

HI:
Here it is Thanksgiving time already and that means that CHRISTMAS IS JUST AROUND THE CORNER. Doesn't the time really whiz by — so fast.

For Christmas giving it is only natural to want the best.
If you are a member of the Build A Book Family Album plan right now would be a good time to have your family group sitting made. The family group portraits make ideal Christmas gifts. Build A Book members are entitled to ten portraits taken over a period of five years at the rate of two sittings a year. The sittings must be made 90 days apart and only immediate family is included. This does not include friends, aunts, cousins, etc. If you are not taking advantage of your opportunity to have the sittings made each year as they come up you will be sadly disappointed in the future with a blank family album that contains no memories.

We sell memories. Are you buying your share?
Want to know a perfect gift for that new mother? One that is amazingly low priced? Give her a membership into the Aunt Mary Birthday Club for only $4.94. This entitles a mother to six beautiful graytone portraits of her child taken at 6 months and then every year during the birthday month for the following five years. Memories of her child captured and put on paper to be cherished forever.

Someone would rather have YOUR PORTRAIT more than anything else you could give them.
More and more people each year are giving photographic Christmas Cards. It is a clever and economical way to remember your friends with pictures. Why don't you come in and see our selection? You will like them I feel sure.

Good portraits are not cheap. cheap portraits are not good.
Every Tuesday is Tots' Day here at our studio and we have tiny prices for tiny tots. For example you get a selection of up to 12 permanent proofs which are dry mounted into the clever BRAGGIN' BOOK and a beautiful 8x10 Deluxe Brownstone of your choice for only $10. Reprints are low priced, too. You can get a dozen billfolds for only $6. Any child up to 10-years-old may be taken on this special day and also groups of children. There is a slight additional charge for extra children. Why don't you plan to come in this Tuesday.

We make appointments day and night — anytime at your convenience.
I hope that all of your friends have the best Thanksgiving ever. Just a thought. When all the family is home for the holiday why not have a family group sitting made. It takes only a little time and you will be happy that you did forever. Just call me at 979 and we will be happy to make an appointment for you on THANKSGIVING DAY.

Better make that Christmas appointment soon.
Oh, yes, when I gave out the names of the Baby Contest winner I inadvertently listed Don Gilbert Clnard as the son of Mrs. Gilbert Clnard and it should have been Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clnard. I sincerely regret any embarrassment this may have caused.

A happy Thanksgiving to you all.
Be Seeing You

Glasgow Unit Meets Nov. 15 With Mrs. Overton

GLASGOW—The Glasgow Home Bureau unit held its regular monthly meeting Nov. 15 at the home of Mrs. Percie Overton with ten members present.

The unit chairman, Mrs. Neva Boester, called the meeting to order with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. The Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison by the group. Mrs. Hester Benton read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report which was followed by the roll call. "My shopping Weakness," Mrs. Boester reported on the board highlights.

The year's program was discussed and assigned to the various members. Mrs. Neva Boester gave the lesson on "What do you know about your school laws?" In her discussion of school she stressed the need of good attendance of the children and the observing of highway laws regarding school buses.

The song, "God Bless America," was sung by the group. Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Overton. The next meeting will be a pot luck dinner at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wilson with a Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 15.

Begins Pastorate
The Rev. Oscar Overton of Barrow began his duties as pastor of the Glasgow Baptist church Sunday, Nov. 20, conducting preaching services at 9:30 a.m. during the morning worship hour. Evening services were held at 7:30 p.m. It was announced that besides preaching services every Sunday morning there will be Sunday evening preaching services on the first and third Sundays of each month at the usual hour.

Prayer meetings will be held on Thursday nights beginning Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m.

Supper Well Attended
The annual coon supper of the Glasgow Sportsman Club was held Monday night at the school building, and was well attended by members and their families. Following the supper hour the business meeting was conducted by the president, Harry Young. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Jesse V. Hawk Sr. The next meeting will be the annual Turkey supper Dec. 19. This will be a Christmas party and gift exchange.

The program of the evening was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Tholen of Winchester, who showed picture slides of their country home and surrounding area, of Jacksonville and Navoo, and scenes of Wisconsin.

The University of Texas basketball team has seven lettermen back for the coming season.

Silicone Product Protects Hands

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

A very famous manufacturer of men's and babies' toiletries has just gone into the women's cosmetic field.

This will be no surprise at all to many of the women who use this manufacturer's lotion for babies. This particular infant product is quite a favorite with mothers who have to cope with a recurring diaper rash. Many of the women who found it worked well for their babies wrote the manufacturer asking that it be made in an adult version.

Now it is. The adult version of this popular lotion comes in the same plastic squeeze bottle and contains the same ingredients, plus another, silicone.

The addition of the silicone gives the product a quality that many homemakers will appreciate. It can protect hands against soap, water, soapless detergents and most of the necessary products used for eradicating dirt in the home.

This is a real boon to most women. Even though she may do her laundry in a machine, the average homemaker finds her hands and wrists aren't improved by the bouts with the washer, bouts that are daily for many mothers.

This, plus the potency of most cleaning compounds and soaps, the drying effect of steam heat and the chill of winter, makes a woman's hands pretty raw most of the time.

A day with the washing machine is no treat for anyone, but it's especially hard on chap-prone hands. A new product containing silicone is protection for a homemaker's hands.

This skin protection, according to the results of the manufacturer's housework lab tests, does the job of keeping

Meat Prices Will Be Much Lower In Nation's Stores

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When the last piece of your Thanksgiving turkey is gone, you'll find a good range of attractive buys in other meats in your local food store this coming weekend.

That turkey may have cost you four cents a pound more than the bird you bought a year earlier, but most other meats are cheaper now than then. As the meat packers have been telling you, pork is a fine buy, and beef has come down a bit, too.

"The best buy is loin of pork," one meat retailer said. "We'll have loins on sale next week at six to eight cents a pound below prices of a year ago. Smoked hams are now selling at eight cents a pound cheaper than in November 1954."

The American Meat Institute took a survey in the Chicago area last week and reported that the average of all meat prices in retail stores was down 12 per cent from a year earlier. Beef items were down 7 to 15 per cent, smoked picnic 15 per cent, other pork items 14 to 25 per cent and legs of lamb three per cent.

Aside from pork, weekend shoppers will find good buys in steaks, prime ribs, chuck roast and legs of lamb.

Egg prices will be two to four cents a dozen higher than a week ago in many areas.

The price of many vegetables moved higher at the wholesale level this week, but there is still a good variety available at reasonable prices.

Having a buffet-style supper? Serve the first course in the living room so you can put the finishing touches on the main course in the kitchen.

Jaycees Accept 5 New Members, See Polio Film

The regular meeting of the Jacksonville Junior Chamber of Commerce was held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Dunlap Hotel with 58 members and five guests present.

Guests included Donald Bates, Harry Smith, Glen Luter, Don Mortimer and Dick Templin. Five new members—John Hinde, John Vohle, Richard Templin, John Reid and Don Mortimer—received membership pins and cards.

Jack Mathews spoke and showed a motion picture on infantile paralysis.

HACKSAW RESCUE
EAGAR, Ariz. (AP)—For reasons best known to himself, 3-year-old Mulford Bigelow Jr. climbed into a milk can. He got stuck. Frantic efforts of his parents and friends failed to unstick him.

His father finally picked up the can — Mulford and all — and took it to a garage. A mechanic cut off the top with a hacksaw and pulled Mulford out.

This Designer Turns Out Clothes That Fit

She Favors Sport Styles

By NEA Service

GUILFORD, Conn.—Women who aren't professional models have frequently found that their figures and the designers' ideas about their figures don't quite match.

For instance, a handsome suit, one designed for wear by the station-wagon set, will often turn out to have been cut for a woman who obviously never sat down at all. And a comfortable dress for autumn walks will sometimes turn out to be made so large in the waist that it would slide off unless it were altered.

A youthful woman here, a member of the very portion of the population to which she caters, has done something about this problem. Hope Mathews, president of Lady Guilford, a garment company, has steadily been producing a line of suburban clothing that requires no alteration to fit the wide-hipped, skimpy-waisted, but nonetheless good-looking figure of the "ordinary" American woman.

The term "president" hardly conveys the true relationship of Mrs. Mathews to her company. She conceives the ideas for the clothes, commissions them to manufacturers, makes the rounds with sample cases, models them for buyers and then organizes the lots for shipment. She also drives her own station wagon on her selling trips and often conveys the packages to the local post office. She insists that each shipment bear the Guilford postmark.

She recently returned from a selling trip to Florida, where she opened 40 accounts in 12 days. She got home to Guilford and turned around to trot down to New York to show the line to buyers from the oil country.

Obviously, the appeal of good fit in line of sportswear is as universal as the appeal of the shirt-and-Bermuda-shorts combination.

Mrs. Mathews' line is as popular on Fifth Avenue as it is on Elm street in Suburbia.

Her small line changes little from year to year. It includes shirts, flared skirts, Bermuda shorts, fancied-up beer jackets—all the favorites of the child-chauffeur, gardening, P-T-A-ing set.

Her business falls in the category of a family affair. She and her husband, both of whom have a background in retailing, are involved in it. But both never hit the road to show the line at the same time; so someone is always home with their son, Chris.

Does she wear her own clothes? Yes indeed. She finds them as comfortable and becoming as her customers have. That's why they're designed that way.

Murrayville Guild To Serve Supper For MYF Festival

MURRAYVILLE—The Wesleyan Service Guild of the Methodist church was entertained Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Clara-belle Alred.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Barbara Spencer reading a Psalm of Thanksgiving. The song "Path of Our Fathers" was sung by the group.

Roll call was answered by 12 members and two guests. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Betty Stanberry and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Jane Rimbey.

Plans were then discussed for the serving of a supper for the Boy's Festival of the MYF on Dec. 4. The following committee was appointed: Mrs. Jane Rimbey, Mrs. Londa McKnelly and Mrs. Thelma Blimling. Plans were made for the month of January which is Guild Month. The worship service "Women and the Church Through the Centuries" was given by Mrs. Katherine Millon. The program with the same title was by Mrs. Beverly Heaton. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Jane Rimbey.

The meeting closed with the Guild Benediction. A social hour followed and the hostess served refreshments. Those present were Mrs. Barbara Spencer, Mrs. Betty Stanberry, Mrs. Beverly Heaton, Mrs. Nellie Ten-dick, Mrs. Jane Rimbey, Mrs. Barbara Heaton, Mrs. Londa McKnelly, Miss Bernice Harvey, Mrs. Thelma Blimling, Mrs. Katherine Millon, Mrs. Martha Joseph and Mrs. Clarabelle Alred and the guests, Louise Jones, district secretary, and Marjorie McMullin of Pittsfield.

FINE TURNS TO PROFIT

EDMOND, Okla. (AP)—A $10 fine levied against a teacher for per-mitting students to sell cakes door-to-door has turned into a $31 profit.

Sympathy build up for the stu-dents and teachers, Alvin Lawson, who paid the fine. The cakes were being sold to raise funds for a school carnival.

When the carnival was held a citizen repaid the teacher for the fine. In addition a magician from Oklahoma City offered his services free for the carnival. Finally, a hat was passed and $30.95 was con-tributed "to defray the incon-venience the students had while selling cakes."

BOUNDARY

The boundary line between the Indian nations and the United States was designated as the Cuya-hoga River in Cleveland, at a treaty concluded at Fort McIntosh with the Wyandot, Chippewa, Ot-tawa and Delaware Indian nations in 1785.

FOR JUNK, MAYBE

PETERSBURG, Va. (AP)—No more will visitors to historic Bland-ford cemetery open the old iron gate which has stood guardian for more than a hundred years. That is, unless junk yards yield the gate—which thieves stole.

Martha Circle Of Grace Church W.S.C.S. Meets

The Martha Circle of the Grace Methodist Church W.S.C.S. met Thursday afternoon, Nov. 17, at the home of Mrs. C. L. Kanatzaar, 1841 Mound road. Mrs. Webster Seymour and Mrs. George Ashby were assistant hostesses.

Mrs. A. B. Applebee presided. Mrs. Ralph Woods spoke about Thanksgiving and told of the history of the traditional turkey. She read from the Psalms, and closed with a prayer.

Mrs. Kanatzaar showed a film strip about the Navaho Indians. A discussion followed, led by members of the circle who had attended the recent study class about "Indian Americans."

An offering was taken for the missions which aid American Indians in their spiritual and daily life.

During the social hour refreshments in keeping with Thanksgiving were served. Mrs. Gerald Cassens and Mrs. C. W. Hill poured.
